E. SESSION SUMMARY:

Conceptually, I perceived two groups of people coming together for some sort of discussions or negotiations. However, at some point during these discussions, an armed fire fight occurs with significant results. This confrontation is started by a small, dissident group on both sides but quickly escalates into a full fledged gun battle. It then spills out into the general population and many, many people are killed. This "fire fight" of sorts was not anticipated and will take everyone by surprise.

Some new art form and/or artist will literally explode onto the screen, so to speak. I get the sense that he will be latin or mediterranean.
